KINNEY SHOE COMPANY

IN A BRIDE'S HONOR.

The following item, taken from the Daily Herald, of Mexico City, will be of interest to Mrs. Thomas Hasam, large number of friends in this city. Mrs. Hasam was Miss Lillian Austin of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Austin.

"Never did a bride meet with a more ardent reception from the friends of her husband than did Mrs. Thomas Hasam yesterday afternoon at the ultra-smart come-and-go reception given in her honor by Mrs. Carl Holt Smith, at her home in Calle de Lucerna, Colonia Juarez.

"The majority of the women had known Mr. Hasam for years, as well as his mother, the late Mrs. T. R. Hasam, and his handsome sister, Mrs. Lila Hasam Montgomery and they gladly received his wife into their charmed circle, at first for his sake, but after having met and conversed with her for a short while, they accepted her for her own, so gracious and engaging was she in manner.

"The house was put into proper festive array for the pleasant occasion, which was the dressiest of the week. The covered patio was done in potted palms and ornamental foliage plants, with here and there a jardiniere bearing a plant in full and beautiful bloom. The Louis XV drawing room, with its delicate pastel tinting, carried a vase or two of white tea roses, en tribune to the newly wedded state of guest of honor, while the tea table was laid in lace and embroidery and centered by a bowl holding magnificent Maracah Niel roses and buds, with white blooms on buffet, console and china cabinets.

"Mrs. Smith stood in the drawing room to receive her callers and to present them to Mrs. Hasam. With them stood Miss Marian Smith, of Caterville, Ga., a sister, Mrs. Charles Richard Hudson and Mrs. Meyer Elias.

What Can't be Cured
Can Often be Prevented

This Is Especially True of Eye
Troubles

Blindness, as a rule, can't be cured, but, just as a rule, it can be prevented. Your eyes play fair. They warn you when everything is not right with them. Most people know when they are overtaxing their eyes; it's because they don't want to "bother" having their eyes examined that they come so perilously close to loss of sight. Don't you take any chances. Come in, have our skillful optician, Dr. Horton, make an examination. He will soon find what is wrong and fit you with the proper glasses.

ser assisted in the parlor, ushering the guests into the music room, where the punch bowl was placed and where Mrs. Monroe S. McCay poured an ice cold champagne brew.

"It was in this room that Mrs. Walter Clement Whiffen gave a very high class musical program.

"Mrs. Hasam looked exceedingly pretty and chic in a French frock of blue de rose ondoyance with over tulle of black Chantilly lace, princess mode, slightly trained.

"The callers wore elegant toilettes in every hue of the rainbow, with champagne to match. Throughout the hours of the come-and-go there was gay laughter and badinage, a cordial word of greeting to the lovely guest of honor, with expressions of sincere good will, and a merry chat over the tea cups in the dining room."

THE FOOLISH WOMAN VS. THE SENSIBLE WOMAN

The foolish woman goes around with a face full of misery, and confides to her intimate friends that her corns "nearly kill" her in hot weather. The sensible woman hasn't any corns, she has used White's Guaranteed Corn Cure and removed them. Why don't you follow her example? Get rid of the pain and the corn at the same time. White's Guaranteed Corn Cure is only 15 cents a bottle. Made, and sold, by Scott White & Co., Prescription Druggists, 204 Mills street.

THE LAZY ONE

Anonymous.

Too lazy to sow and too lazy to reap,
Too lazy for all things but plenty of sleep;
Too lazy for makin' the grass come to bay,
Each day that he lives is his laziest day.

And if he had wings to the regions on high
He'd just be too lazy—too lazy to fly.
With a harp in his hand—and regret for to say it—
He'd still be too lazy—too lazy to play it.

El Pasoans At the Beaches In California

Long Beach, Calif., July 30.—The rise and fall of the human tide at Long Beach is almost as regular and well ordered as the tides of the sea. The influx of people is at its highest Saturday and Sunday, when Los Angeles discharges its overworked population.

Monday sees low tide in "The Pike" only native Long Beachers and the summer population remain.

Among the El Paso people who "go down to the sea" not in ships, but in bathing dresses, Miss Carrie Race and Mrs. Claiborne Adams are the best swimmers. Many prefer the plunge, and among these are Miss Stapleton and Mrs. Eva Stapleton.
